

German National Library Leipzig

Leipzig, Germany

Project Description

The fourth extension of the German National Library in Leipzig provides a depot for the inventory of the library and houses the book museum and the music archive. Lindner fitted the NORTEC raised floor system with applied natural stone to the large exhibition hall at a size of 1.350m². Planning and realization: Gabriele Glöckler / ZSP-Architects.

General

Building Type	Library Rooms
Company Division	Lindner SE Floors
Completion	2009 - 2011
Client	Sächs. Immobilien- und Baumanagement Leipzig I
Architect	Gabriele Glöckler Architektur

Completed Works

- Floors

- Calcium sulphate panels

- NORTEC

- FLOOR and more®

- FLOOR and more® power

- Nasshohlboden

- CAVOPEX

