Project Description

Wall and ceiling panels

Kilden Performing Arts Centre is the new cultural centre in south Norway. It officially opened in 2011. Since then it is the dwelling for 'Agder Theater', the 'Kristiansand Philharmonic' and the 'Opera South' with a variety of performing arts. It hosts five different performance spaces like a concert hall for an audience of 1200 persons. Lindner was responsible for the interior fit-out of all performance spaces and could turn each hall into an experience for all the senses.
